About Macmillan

What we do

No one should face cancer alone.

So when you need someone to turn to, we're here. Right from the moment you're diagnosed, through your treatment and beyond, we're a constant source of support, giving you the energy and inspiration to help you take back control of your life, and feel more like yourself again.

Our ambition

Macmillan's ambition is to reach and improve the lives of everyone living with cancer and to inspire millions of others to do the same.

How we work

We're here for you. Find out how we make sure we're offering the best information, advice and resources for everyone.

Understanding the evidence

Macmillan's research helps us, and others, understand the needs, numbers and experiences of people affected by cancer, to develop and influence better care and services.

We make change happen

We find out what matters to people affected by cancer, and fight for the best deal. We help shape policies and work with the government to improve lives.

The Macmillan Cancer Information Service at Moatfield Surgery

Who we are

We ensure people affected by cancer have access to good quality, comprehensive and appropriate information and support.

We are based at Queen Victoria Hospital and we are at Moatfield surgery twice a month.

What we offer

We offer support and provide information to anyone who has concerns about cancer, their relatives, friends and carers.

We can listen to you and discuss how cancer is affecting your life.

We can facilitate referral for Welfare Benefits Advice.

Who will you see

All our staff are fully trained and many have personal experience of living with cancer
